Highlights for Auckland exporters include:

Auckland's smart ICT and digital companies produce world-class software, apps, games, and other products and services. CPTPP will provide greater openness and certainty around the regulations our service exporters face.

Auckland has leading-edge businesses in advanced materials, 3D printing, robotics and space technology. All tariffs on manufactured exports will be eliminated.

Two-thirds of New Zealand's top 50 food and beverage companies are headquartered in Auckland. Tariffs will be eliminated or reduced on nearly all of New Zealand's food and beverage exports to CPTPP economies.

All of New Zealand's fish and fish products imported into Japan currently face tariffs. Within 11 years of the CPTPP entering into force, 99% of these will be eliminated, and the remainder within 16 years.

The CPTPP will also help address non-tariff barriers to trade in goods and services including by streamlining the process to get goods across the border.
