ANNEX 1

UN Registry Definitions of Categories I-VII

I. Battle tanks

Tracked or wheeled self-propelled armoured fighting vehicles with high cross-country mobility and a high-level of self-protection, weighing at least 16.5 metric tons unladen weight, with a high muzzle velocity direct fire main gun of at least 75 millimetres calibre.

II. Armoured combat vehicles

Tracked, semi-tracked or wheeled self-propelled vehicles, with armoured protection and cross-country capability, either: (a) designed and equipped to transport a squad of four or more infantrymen, or (b) armed with an integral or organic weapon of at least 12.5 millimetres calibre or a missile launcher.

III. Large-calibre artillery systems

Guns, howitzers, artillery pieces, combining the characteristics of a gun or a howitzer, mortars or multiple-launch rocket systems, capable of engaging surface targets by delivering primarily indirect fire, with a calibre of 75 millimetres and above.

IV. Combat aircraft

- a) Manned fixed-wing or variable-geometry wing aircraft, designed, equipped or modified to engage targets by employing guided missiles, unguided rockets, bombs, guns, cannons or other weapons of destruction, including versions of these aircraft which perform specialized electronic warfare, suppression of air defence or reconnaissance missions;
- b) Unmanned fixed-wing or variable-geometry wing aircraft, designed, equipped or modified to engage targets by employing guided missiles, unguided rockets, bombs, guns, cannons or other weapons of destruction.

The term “combat aircraft” does not include primary trainer aircraft, unless designed, equipped or modified as described above.

V. Attack helicopters

- a) Manned rotary-wing aircraft, designed, equipped or modified to engage targets by employing guided or unguided anti-armour, air-to-surface, air-to-subsurface, or air-to-air weapons and equipped with an integrated fire control and aiming system for these weapons, including versions of these aircraft which perform specialized reconnaissance or electronic warfare missions;
- b) Unmanned rotary-wing aircraft, designed, equipped or modified to engage targets by employing guided or unguided anti-armour, air-to-surface, air-to-subsurface, or air-to-air weapons and equipped with an integrated fire control and aiming system for these weapons.

VI. Warships

Vessels or submarines armed and equipped for military use with a standard displacement of 500 metric tons or above, and those with a standard displacement of less than 500 metric tons, equipped for launching missiles with a range of at least 25 kilometres or torpedoes with similar range.

VII. Missiles and missile launchers

- a) Guided or unguided rockets, ballistic or cruise missiles capable of delivering a warhead or weapon of destruction to a range of at least 25 kilometres, and means designed or modified specifically for launching such missiles or rockets, if not covered by categories I through VI. For the purpose of the Register, this sub-category includes remotely piloted vehicles with the characteristics for missiles as defined above but does not include ground-to-air missiles.
- b) Man-Portable Air-Defence Systems (MANPADS).

VIII.	UN registry definition with additional details: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>All of the small arms listed in the export section fall under category ML1 or ML901 on New Zealand's Strategic Goods List, which is available online at: https://www.mfat.govt.nz/assets/_securedfiles/Uploads/NZSGL-2013.pdf Please refer to pages 31 and 56 respectively. Export permits do not differentiate between subsets of these categories.</li> <li>Under New Zealand law, Military-Style Semi-Automatic (MSSA) describes a self-loading rifle or shotgun with one or more of the following features: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Folding or telescopic butt;</li> <li>Magazine that holds, or is detachable and has the appearance of holding, more than 15 cartridges for .22 rimfire;</li> <li>Magazine that holds more than 7 cartridges, or is detachable and has the appearance of holding more than 10 cartridges for other than .22 rimfire;</li> <li>Bayonet lug;</li> <li>Pistol grip as defined by Order in Council;</li> <li>Flash suppressor.</li> </ul> MSSA was introduced as a firearm descriptor after the 1990 Aramoana mass shooting. The term includes weapons that, outside New Zealand, could be classed as (or upgraded to) Assault rifles. New Zealand is therefore reporting all MSSAs under the Assault rifle category, although most would usually be described as rifles with the potential to be upgraded to Assault rifles. </li> <li>Medium and General purpose machine guns: The New Zealand Defence Force considers a 7.62mm MMG or GPMG to fit within the parameters of the Light machine gun section. Any machine gun over 0.5" calibre would be a Heavy machine gun and likely mounted.</li> </ol>

Definitions of voluntary national categories - Section C of import table

No	Description
	Shotguns: New Zealand has a strong hunting and target shooting tradition, making shotguns a significant percentage of New Zealand's total small arms imports. A report conveying a full picture of New Zealand firearms would therefore be incomplete without this type of weapon, which is also used by the New Zealand Defence Force.

	Restricted Air-gun: New Zealand requires that permits be obtained to import air-guns that have the appearance of genuine firearms, including those designed for games such as paintball and airsoft. A Restricted Air-gun is defined as an airgun that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• (With or without any of its attachments) has the appearance of being a pistol, a restricted weapon or a MSSA; or</li> <li>• Is designed for use in airsoft or paintball sports and (with or without any of its attachments) has the appearance of being a firearm capable of full automatic fire.</li> </ul> New Zealand's annual report includes these weapons because they may be used in the commission of criminal or other destabilizing activity. New Zealand is reporting on these in the spirit of full transparency. Replica machine gun: In reporting the replica machine guns, New Zealand has followed the same reasoning as the above reporting of Restricted Air-guns: both have the appearance of a genuine firearm and could therefore be used in the commission of criminal or other destabilizing activity. New Zealand is reporting these in the spirit of full transparency. Humane killer: A purpose-made, single-shot weapon which has a chamfered muzzle and vented barrel to facilitate its use with the muzzle end of the barrel in full contact with the target. This resembles a traditional pistol and is used to slaughter livestock humanely. New Zealand is reporting it in the spirit of full transparency.
	Additional Note on Temporary Exports Temporary export permits are issued for goods which are temporarily leaving New Zealand and intended to be returned to the same owner in New Zealand. Generally the export item will be in the care of the owner throughout the period of export (e.g. a sales representative or firearm owner), although items may be temporarily exported for the purposes of trial or repair by a third party. The permit is valid for a three month window from the intended date of export. Common scenarios include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Taking weapons overseas for a competition or for recreational use;</li> <li>• A salesperson taking product samples for viewing by potential clients abroad or to a trade exhibition;</li> <li>• Samples sent to a potential customer abroad for trial.</li> </ul> A condition of a temporary permit is that MFAT Export Controls be notified when the goods have been returned to New Zealand. All firearms imported into New Zealand must have an import permit issued by New Zealand Police, including those that are returning after having been exported temporarily.
